

The Contributors

Veronica Marie M. Araneta is currently working with the Sustainable Development Solutions Network (SDSN) Philippines as Project Coordinator and at Ateneo de Manila University's Institute for Sustainability as a Research Collaborator. She is a graduate of the Science Policy Research Unit (SPRU) of the University of Sussex with a Master of Science in Sustainable Development. She received her undergraduate degree in European Studies, specializing in International Relations and Hispanic Studies, with a minor in Sustainability from Ateneo de Manila University. Her research interests are in decolonial theory and sustainable development. <anicaaraneta@gmail.com>

Vincent L. Casil teaches ethics courses at Ateneo de Manila University. He is also affiliated with City of Malabon University, Lyceum of the Philippines University, and Philippine Christian University, teaching Research and various Philosophy courses. His research interests include the following areas of study: Subjectivity, Marx, post-Marxism, ethics, social and political philosophy, and Philippine studies. <vcasil@ateneo.edu>

Shane Epting is Assistant Professor of Philosophy at the Missouri University of Science and Technology. He is a Co-Founder and current Co-Director of the Philosophy of the City Research Group. His research interests include transportation, environmental justice, and urban futures. <shane.epting@gmail.com>

John T. Giordano is a Lecturer in Philosophy and Religion at Assumption University of Thailand. He has also taught at Ateneo de Manila University in the Philippines, as well as in small colleges in Tanzania and South Africa. He teaches and writes about a wide range of topics, but he is particularly interested in the philosophy of mythology and the changing roles of mythology within the present information age. He is Editor of the journal Prajñā Vihāra: Journal of Philosophy and Religion. <jgiordano@au.edu>

Benjiemen A. Labastin is an Assistant Professor of Philosophy at La Salle University, Ozamiz City. He is a PhD student in Philosophy at the University of San Carlos, Cebu City and is currently writing his dissertation on Philippine democracy and the presidency of Rodrigo Roa Duterte. <labastinb@gmail.com>

Thomas Menampampil is a key figure in the peace process in India, particularly among Assam's various ethnic groups. He was conferred the "Ambassador for Peace Award" by the International Human Rights Council in 2019. He is Archbishop Emeritus of Guwahati, a journey of service which began in 1965 when he was ordained in the Salesians of Don Bosco and in 1992 as the first bishop of the newly established Diocese of Guwahati. <menamabp@gmail.com>

Roberto Paolo T. Sangil graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in Journalism from the University of Santo Tomas and took his Master of Arts in Philosophy at the University of the Philippines, Diliman. His work experience includes technical writing and translation in the fields of data engineering and television, as well as setting up Balangay, a mobile disaster preparedness application for the City of Legazpi. He volunteers part time with the Cyber Guardians, a group that fights online sexual abuse and the exploitation of children. He also helps create online content for fitness enthusiasts with Beyond Bars. <paolo.sangil@gmail.com>